The Chairman shall generally take the chair at General Meetings. In the absence of the Chairman the meeting shall elect a member of the General committee to the chair before proceeding to business. (NB by tradition the Chairman may offer the chair at any General Meeting to the President)

2. Ruling of the Chair.

The decision of the chairman on any point shall be final unless it is clearly in breach of the constitution or Standing Orders and any person disobeying the ruling of the chair may be suspended by ordinary resolution of the meeting.

3. Votes per Person.

In any vote whether by ballot or show of hands, no individual, irrespective of the number of Offices held shall be entitled to more than one vote.

5. Voting majority.

Save as otherwise provided in the constitution (Special Resolutions: two thirds or three quarters) all business of a meeting shall be decided by a bare majority of the votes properly recorded at such meeting. In the case of an equality of votes, the chairman shall have a second, or casting, vote.

6. Method of Voting.

At a General Meeting every question shall be decided by a show of hands unless a ballot is (a) directed by the chairman or (b) demanded by not less than five persons present and entitled to vote.

7. Notice of Motion.

Every notice of motion to be placed on the Agenda for any General Meeting shall be sent, in writing, to the General Secretary, at least 28 days before the date of the meeting.

8. Motions and Amendments to Motions.

Every motion and every amendment to a motion shall be proposed and seconded. All amendments to a motion must be submitted to the chairman in writing, and signed by the proposer. If an amendment is carried, it shall displace the original motion for consideration, whereupon any further amendment may be moved. If an amendment be not carried, then another may be moved to the original motion under consideration: but only one amendment shall be submitted to the meeting for discussion at any one time and no person shall move more than one amendment. In the event of no amendment being carried the original motion shall be voted on.

9. Speaking to Motions.

No person shall address the meeting more than once on any motion or amendment, but by permission of the chairman, he may reply to questions or give further information. The proposer of an original motion may, however, speak for 5 minutes in reply, whereupon the question shall be put forthwith. Except by leave of the chair, the right to reply shall not extend to the proposer of an amendment which, having been carried, has become a substantive motion.

10. Duration of Speeches.

The speech of the proposer of a resolution shall not exceed 10 minutes in length and that of each subsequent speaker thereon 5 minutes without the consent of the meeting. The consent for an extension of time shall be ascertained, without debate, and where such extension of time is allowed it shall not be for more than 10 minutes at a time.

11. Candidates_(if there be more than one) for any office shall leave the room while the meeting is considering and voting on a particular appointment.

12. Moving progress.

It shall be competent for any person to move without debate at the close of the speech of any other person that the question be now put and the motion, if seconded, shall, unless the chairman rules otherwise, be put forthwith and decided by a show of hands.

13. Termination of business.

It shall be competent for any person to move that the proceedings do terminate at a given hour and, if the motion be seconded, it shall be put to the vote forthwith by a show of hands. Any subsequent motion to extend such time must be carried by the affirmative vote of not less than two thirds of the persons present and voting, by a show of hands.

14. Adjournment.

Any business or motion not reached or completed when the time arrives to close the meeting shall be abandoned.

15. Suspension of Standing Orders.

These standing orders may be suspended wholly or in part without previous notice if a motion to that effect be carried by the affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of the persons present and voting.

16. Conduct.

If, at any meeting, in the opinion of the chairman, notified to the meeting, a member misconducts himself by continuous irrelevance, tedious repetition, unbecoming or offensive language or by persistently disregarding the ruling of the chair, or by behaving irregularly, improperly, or offensively or by willfully obstructing the business of the meeting it shall be competent for a member to move "that the member named do leave the meeting" and that the motion, if seconded, shall be put and determined without discussion by a show of hands.

17. If, after a motion under Standing Orders 16 has been carried, the misconduct or obstruction is continued and, in the opinion of the chairman, renders the dispatch of the business impossible, the chairman may, without question, adjourn or suspend the meeting for such a period as he shall consider expedient.
